MEMORIAL PARK AT MANASSAS

Committee Gets $15,000 of $50,000 Fund Needed

PROMISE SOUTH'S AID

One Gift of $10,000 From Boston—Address by C. J. Owens—Is located on Lee Highway .

Manassas, Va., July 22.—Featuring the inaugural exercises of the Manassas Confederate Memorial park movement held on the historic Bull Run battlefields near here yesterday, the reading of a telegram received from Leonard Imboden of Boston, in which $10,000 was pledged toward the movement in the name of the Imboden Brothers. Leonard Imboden is a cousin of Gen. John D. Imboden, Confederate general who fought in both battles of Manassas.

Several $1,000 gifts were also announced among them one from William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of United States Treasury. Already about $15,000 of the $50,000 needed has been subscribed.

In the morning the post band from the United States marine barracks Quantico, Va., gave a concert at the old Henry house, located in the center of the battlefields ,where the exercises were staged. After a picnic dinner, enjoyed by 2,000 people from Prince William and neighboring counties, several addresses were given.

The speakers included Maj. E. W. R. Ewing, of Balston, Va., president of the park movement Clarence J. Owens, director general of the Southern commercial congress and chairman of the finance board of the park movement, and Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, who declared the entire Southland would aid in bringing this movement to a speedy consummation.

Mr. Owens in his address, severely criticized Josephus Daniels and Newton D. Baker, charging them with gross injustice and infidelity to the South as the ranking members of the Arlington amphitheaters memorial commission, in eliminating the South entirely from the memorial.

Mr. Owens, who is conducting the drive for $50,000 for the purchase of the battlefield of Manassas, said in part: "The immortal words uttered by Abraham Lincoln on the field of Gettysburg are equally applicable to Manassas and this inaugural occasion. His words would be fitting on any military field where brave men offer their lives for a great principle. They would apply to any country and any period of history. He said: 'We can not dedicate, we can not consecrate, we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have dedicated it far beyond our poor power to add or detract. The world will little not or long remember what we say here, but it will never forget what they did here.'

"The Manassas battlefield park will be located on the Lee Highway, a grand boulevard that is named for the famed chieftain of the South, and will be brought into close proximity to the Federal Capital. As Manassas is only about 30 miles from Washington, it is certain that it will become one of the historic spots adjacent to the Capital that will be visited annually by thousands of visitors and tourists. It will become a patriotic shrine and will be the South's tribute to valor. It will be sectional only in its initiation and control, as it will pay honor to the gallant soldiers of both armies who fought on this field.

"There are those who refer to Gettysburg as the Waterloo of the Confederacy. The South, however, will be able to point to her Austerlitz,' her Manassas. Gen. Winfield Scott, when asked for an explanation of the defeat of the Union army on that field that became an utter rout, exclaimed that the men who opposed the Union army at Manassas were the 'men who followed me into the city of Mexico.'"

Too Talkative

Given Three Month for Talk—Bologna Sausage and Crackers. Lead To Trouble.

That talking back in court is not a paying proposition is indelibly stamped on the mind of Harry Jackson, colored, for a few words—to be exact seven— will mean that Jackson will spend three more months on the county roads than he was sentenced to. After the court had heard the evidence in the case of Jackson, charged by Policeman Lunsford with assaulting his wife, a sentence of 90 days was pronounced and Jackson quickly retorted: "You don't give me justice at all," and the court thereupon said, "Six months on the road." Testimoney was adduced to show that Jackson early this morning weilded a heavy iron lamp over the head of his better half. Surgical treatment was necessary at the hospital. The prisoner, however, emphatically denied the charge. According to Policeman Lunsford the couple have frequent "scraps."

When Mary Lewis yesterday afternoon safely tucked away a box of crackers little did she dream that trouble was going to be the outcome of her plans to conserve food. Vernon Lewis came home and accused her of taking his bologna sausage. He pushed her he said and then she struck him, he testified, and the prisoner declared he slapped her. The slapping act cost him $5. Policeman Thompson arrested Lewis.

It was 3 o'clock this morning and all were sleeping peacefully when a son-in-law came to the home of his mother-in-law. The mother-in-law had hooked her screen door and was asleep. Failing to receive a speedy response to his knocks for admission to the home he forced the screen door and entered and the mother-in-law told of having being attacked by the son-in-law. The court quickly settled this case with a fine of $10 and announced that if the accused was brought up again he would get six months on the road force. The young man admitted he had been drinking cider. He was arrested by Sergeant Wilkinson and Policemen Carlton Padgett and Miller.

ADOPT TARIFF BILL VOTE IS 289 TO 127

Fordney Bill Acted on by House of Representatives

DEMOCRATS PLEASED

Oils, Hides, Cotton and Asphalt are Kept on Free List — Democrats Force Vote

Washington, July 22.—The Fordney Tariff bill was passed by the House late yesterday, after having caused the big Republican majority more important defeats than any majority party, framing a tariff has suffered in the lower branch of Congress in many years.

The vote was 289 for to 127 against—precisely the vote by which a Democratic motion for elimination of its American valuation provision was defeated. Seven Republicans voted against the measure and the same number of Democrats supported it.

The Republicans voting against the bill were Beck, Wisconsin; Gahn, Ohio; Knight, Ohio; Lampert, Wisconsin; John M. Nelson, Wisconsin; Sindlair, North Dakota, and Voigt, Wisconsin.

Democrats voting for it were Campbell, Pennsylvania; Dupre, Martin, Flavrot and Lazare, Louisiana; Lea and Raker, California.

Oil, hides, cotton and asphalt stood up against a determined fight to tax them and remained on the free list. The Longworth dye embargo, first of the five contested schedules to go before the House proper for a separate vote, and backed by most of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee, was thrown out, 209 to 193.

Forming and holding a flying wedge and aided by Republicans not satisfied with all the bill's provisions, the Democratic minority made the most of its chances and won on each. The Ways and Means Committee lost out on three of the five amendments laid before the House.

There was not much chance of imposing a duty on hides and cotton after the House, in committee of the whole, had defeated amendments carrying compensatory rates on their manufactured products. When the oil amendment was reached, there was such a shout of noes that a roll call was not demanded. A moment later, Chairman Fordney, trying to make himself heard above the din which prevailed during three hours of voting, announced that sentiment in the committee of the whole against taxing asphalt had been so overwhelming that it wasn't worth while to go through the form of calling the roll.

More than 200 committee amendments rushed through during the last few days were put up to be voted on in a block. Some mendy connected spelling in the bill, some shuffled commas and some changed the rates, but the Democrats, still holding their forces in line, compelled a record vote.

Just before the time came to pass the bill Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the Ways and Means Committee, stepped to the front with the expected motion to send the bill back to its framers with instructions to strike out the provisions. This was where the Republicans and Democrats divided squarely on the whole tariff issue, although they had split widely on some of the earlier votes.

On one instance—the fight over the oil schedule—the Democrats and insurgent Republicans were aided by President Harding, who appealed to Chairman Fordney to drop the schedule, which had been inserted into the bill at the last moment in committee. Mr. Fordney did not yield, but the House ran over him. In the other big fights the victories of the Democrats and insurgent Republicans were gained in the face of a solid line-up of Republican stalwarts.

The Democratic leaders of the House were fairly comfortable tonight over the results. Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, who has been one of the principal leaders of the Democrats in the absence of Representative Kitchin, floor leader, made a statement in which he said that the

Local Boy Making Good

Carl Dreifus, more familiarly known as "Ike," returned to Spring Grove, Pa., last Wednesday and pitched the stellar game of his career defeating the Acco Baseball Team of York by the score 6 to 5. After being carried from the field with an injured ankle he returned to the mound and finished a game regarded in that section as one of the best played this season. The Acco has the reputation as the best semi-pro team in Pennsylvania and its very creditable for Dreifus to show such class before a team of its standing. "Ike" allowed but five hits and won his game in the ninth with a long single to right send ing a man home from second. This makes the fourth straight game Dreifus has won for Spring Grove and the nice things said about him in Spring Grove and York papers are indicative that he is the hero of the town.

FILMS OF JERSEY BOUT CAN BE SHOWN ANYWHERE.

New York, July 22.—Although motion pictures of prize fights are prohibited by Federal statute from being shown in any State except that in which the fight was held, F. C. Quinby announced that a film reproduction of the recent Dempsey-Carpentier contest would be shown in a local theater Saturday.

Mr. Quinby's attorneys are said to have obtained from Attorney General Daugherty aruling that the Dempsey-Carpentier bout was a boxing match, not a prize fight, and therefore, under the law, pictures of it could be legallly transported from one State to another for public exhibition.

Private showings of the pictures are reported to have been held in Washington, where they were viewed by several members of Congress, and at various New York hospitals, where they were shown for the benefit of convalescent soldiers.

Candidates were nominated by the Republicans of the city last night for three offices. Action on nominating candidates for other offices was deferred till the latter part of August. The candidates nominated are as follows: For clerk of the courts, Charles Stoler; for commonwealth's attorney, John Barton Phillips; for clerk of the gas, Ferdinand De Vaughn. All of the nominations were made by F. Clinton Knight, who stated that the Republicans expected to nominate candidates for other offices the latter part of August.

Only thirteen persons attended the meeting. The next meeting will be called by the chairman of the committee. The meeting was presided over by John U. Scharzmann, city chairman and F. Clinton Knight was secretary.

The Republicans nominee will oppose the Democratic nominees in the general election which will be held in November.

After calling the meeting to order Mr. Schwarzmann made a short address and among other things he said the state of Virginia receives between eighteen and twenty million dollars in revenue and that most of the funds received goes to the 45,000 office holders for the two million people in the state. The state he said should cut off about 35,000 of the office holders and give eight or ten million more dollars saved as a result to schools and roads. The speaker asserted that Virginia stands near the bottom of the column in education, being forty-third state out of the forty-eight.

The speaker also declared that the Republicans here expect to have Colonel Anderson, Republican nominee for governor, address a mass meeting here in the near future.

On motion of Mr. Knight the previous campaign committee will hold over and the chair appointed the following on the finance committee: J. A. Eggborn, Thomas Barry, Albert Mays, Charles Downey, T. T. Quinn

DAIL EIREANN TO CONSIDER PEACE

Offer of Lloyd George to be Presented by de Valera

TO CONFER WITH CRAIG

Truce to Continue During Discussion —Official Statement Given—Tories May Revolt—Ulster is Thorn.

London, July 22.—Eamonn de Valera finished today his preliminary conversation with Prime Minister Lloyd George, from whom he received the proposals of the British Cabinet for the basis of a permanent Irish settlement.

He will return to Ireland tomorrow with his associates and it is expected the first step will be the release of the 50 prisoners, members of Dail Eireann, and the calling of a full meeting of that body, at which Mr. de Valera will present Great Britain's proposals.

If these are accepted as the basis for further discussion, a fully accredited delegation will come to London to discuss the final terms of peace.

In the mean time, the truce will continue, and efforts will be made by Mr. de Valera to settle with Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier.

The Irish Republican leader has expressed willingness to meet Craig anywhere in Ireland at any time, and it is said to be likely that a private meeting will be arranged which will lead later to a public conference for an all-Ireland agreement.

It is expected the preliminaries will take a week or ten days and there is little chance for any definite action before the end of next week.

As usual the utmost secrecy and reserve veiled today's London conference. Mr. de Valera remained only 40 minutes with Prime Minister Lloyd George and a half hour after he had gone Gen. Jan C. Smuts, the South African Premier, arrived and stayed a half hour.

Later in the day this official communique was issued:

"Prime Minister Lloyd George and Eamonn de Valera had a further conversation at 12:30 o'clock this morning, which lasted about an hour. The basis for a further conference has not yet been found. Mr. de Valera has arranged to return to Ireland tomorrow and to communicate with Mr. Lloyd George again after further discussion with his colleagues."

When the Irish party left Downing street all were smiling and Mr. de Valera looked like a man who had accomplished a heavy task. All refused to add anything to the official statement.

It is declared that the offer made by Mr. Lloyd George included a dominion status for South Ireland, important financial concessions both as regards the initial fund for starting the Irish Government and Ireland's contribution to the imperial expenses, and adequate safe guards for Ulster in case the South is unable to affect a settlement with Ulster independentof English intervention.

The only serious danger of a breach in the peace negotiations is said to be the possibility of a revolt of English Tories and the upsetting of the Lloyd George Government.

A deputation of Tory members of Parliament waited on Austen Chamberlain, the Tory leader, today, insisting that whatever settlement might be arrived at, Ulster be untouched.

Mr. Chamberlain, who is said to be in favor of Mr. Lloyd George's plan for Irish settlement, gave assurances that Ulster would not be coerced, but the visitors were only half satisfied.

Election in October.

Judge Brent has granted the petition of Attorney Caton and others, and has ordered a special election to be held on October 4, next, to determine whether or not the city desires a change in its form of government. Should the vote be in the affirmative, then an election will be held in June, 1922, for the election of five councilmen at large, who will thereafter form the legislative and executive body of the municipality. Several years ago Alexandria voted on the city manager plan, which did not carry solely because of the indifference of many of its friends and their neglect to go to the polls.

This year, however, the citizens are thoroughly alive to the importance of the proposed change, and there is every reason to believe that it will receive a decided majority.

The women are now a factor, besides, and if indications are to be relied upon, they are overwhelmingly in favor of the city manager plan for Alexandria.

We have before, in these columns, expatiated on the great superiority of the new system of city management over the old, in which a mayor, common council of sixteen, and aldermanic board of eight form an unwieldly. irresponsible executive body.

The essence of the city manager plan may be said to consist of its absolute freedom from politics, so-called, and its express power of fixing responsibility on one individual—the city manager. The latter is chosen from any point in the United States, and his eperience and record should be, and generally are, the guiding features of his selection.

To Attorney James R. Caton belongs the principal credit for the interest taken so far in the proposed change. We gladly accord to him this honor, and commend him as an example of what a public-spirited citizen should be in his community. We have read with much pleasure and profit an interesting little brochure published by him on the occasion of the last effort to secure a change in the form of city government in Alexandria. We may decide, with his permission, to reprint it in the Gazette for the benefit of the electorate. The new voters may not have studied the question. the women may wish further enlightenment, and on the whole we have no doubt it will prove a welcome feature to all our readers.

The latest accounts from the British squadron state that the whole were under sail making down the river.

The doors of Congress Hall were closed yesterday early in the session. It cannot be supposed that we are acquainted with the secrets of that body; but if we might be allowed to conjecture, we should guess that something like an Embargo was on the tapis. It does not comport with the views of our Executive (President Madison), that any portion of the people of this ill-starred nation should in any manner be relieved from the oppressive load which has been heaped upon their backs by the Solomons and Sampsons of the West, and their coadjutors of other sections of the country.

On motion of Mr. Calhoun, chairman of committee on foreign relations, the doors were closed for the remainder of the day.

DECEIVER OF FAT WOMEN HELD ON FRAUD CHARGE.

Chicago, July 22.—R. Leonid Wanger, of Muncie, Terre Haute and Chicago, was held by the Federal authorities here today as the meanest man who ever used the mails for purposes of fraud. He cruelly deceived fat women who were willing to pay good money and endure tortures to rid themselves of their excess weight.

Wanger, the postal inspectors assert, has for two years gone about in the Middle West taking $20 a client for physical culture courses he never gave. His method was first to collect the $20. Then he would tell the plump lady to bend down and touch her toes 20 times every minute until he returned. He never returned.

In the "Professor's" advertising booklet, widely circulated through the mails, the Federal officials found "testimonials" from members of Chicago society—the Pattens, Palmers, Swifts, Hewitts and Booths. Wanger finnally put his reducing method over on Clarence E. Bennett, District Attorney for Delaware county, Indiana, and his arrest followed. He was taken to Indianapolis under a $2,500 bond.

BRITISH STAND ALOOF IN TARRING CASE HERE.

London, July 22.—The British Government does not intend to make representations to the United States Government concerning the tarring and feathering of the Rev. Philip S. Irwin, a British subject, by masked men in Miami, Florida, Sunday night.

Cecil Harmsworth, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, in answer to a question in the House of Commons today, said:

"I am confident the United States authorities will take such steps as may be necessary to see that justice is done without representations from His Majectry's government."

The Rev. Mr. Irwin, pastor of a negro Episcopal Church in Miami, was found on the streets of that city covered with tar and feathers about midnight Sunday by a policeman. His alleged preaching of the doctrine of racial equality, which he has denied. was said to have provoked the attack. The day after the attack the preacher stated that, while he was a British subject, he "would not insult the American flag" by applying to the British authorities for protection.

PENALTY FOR NEGLECT IS UNPLEASANTLY HEAVY

It sometimes seems best to avoid disagreeable facts—until we find they can't be escaped, and that they grow greater the longer we postpone facing them.

Let's be frank with ourselves. Are we replacing our bodily strength as promptly as we use it? Are we increasinging our "health reserve"—or drawing upon it so rapidly that in a short while we'll be "physically bankrupt?"

We must always pay a disagreeable penalty for neglecting our business affairs, and an equally unpleasant and inexorable penalty for neglecting our body.

Build a "reserve" of strength and health.

Oh How Glorious to Be Free From Rheumatism's Tortures!

Just suppose you could be free from your deepseated, agonizing rheumatic aches and pains, your stiff joints and unsightly swellings! Wouldn't you give anything to get rid of them?

You have doubtless rubbed on outside treatments; most rheumatism sufferers have. Some of these take the edge off the terrible pains for a few hours, but they do not strike at the cause, which nearly always lies in the poisoned, impoverished blood.

When this is so, you need an internal remedy, one that will take out the impurities that are torturing you, one like famous S.S.S., which has relieved thousands of cases of rheumatism all over the country just this way.

HOT ENOUGH TO FRY EGGS

Congressman Langley Proves Statement True as Regards the Capitol Steps.

Washington.—"You win, John!" gasped Representative Joseph C. Pringey of Oklahoma, as he mopped his brow and lost a wager to Congressman John W. Langley of Kentucky.

Langley bet that it was hot enough to fry eggs on the steps of the capitol. Pringey said it could not be done.

Langley obtained a pair of eggs from the house restaurant and started his culinary task. The frying was slow but when Langley flipped the eggs over and spoiled a "sunny side up," Pringley admitted he had lost.

Trinkle vs Taxation

In his recent address in Richmond Senator Trinkle outlined his platform as follows:

Increases in taxes in recent years should give every man and woman a vital interest in the affairs of their government. This interest is in tomorrow, not yesterday—in the years to come, not in the generations that have gone forever.

All of the next generation, for good or ill, is bound up in the child of today. We shall have just the sort of civilization and just the sort of government that results from the education the children of the Commonwealth are receiving today. I stand for the very best education the State can give, and in so doing I stand for tomorrow.

The prosperity, the general education and culture, of the people of Virginia in the future (I do not discuss the past except to draw lessons from it; I do not live in it) depend upon the means of communication. Good highways are essential. I want them built as quickly as the people can pay for them.

If elected Governor I shall veto any legislation presented to me looking to a further increase in taxation.

In the matter of a bond issue for roads, I shall not recommend to the General Assembly in 1922 a bond issue.

I believe our laws—and I helped to make them—relative to highways are wrong, and when I make a mistake I am willing to rectify it. Some people seem to get into a rut and never get out. Under present laws the highway commissioner has more power than any one man ought to have. At the extra session 1919 we gave the governor the right to appoint five commissioners but we did not give them power enough. They only decide on appeal between disputed routes and allocate the funds. The commissioner fixes upon the plans, the type of road, draws the specifications, calls for bids and accepts or rejects them, and pays out millions of dollars of the taxpayers, money on his own individual judgment. If he makes an error there is no tribunal to correct it. The people are willing to pay for roads, but are not satisfied with the management of the highway department. The laws must be so changed that the people will know their funds will be justly and economically expended. If elected, I will call a conference, and if necessary get advice from outside of the State, and work out the best system of highway laws that Virginia can adopt. It won't do to make mistakes and then still owe the money. It is easy enough to go to the bank and borrow, but it is not easy to pay it back especially if you have spent the money unwisely.

My platform is that of the National and State Democratic Conventions in 1920. My distinguished opponent tried to get the Roanoke Convention to adopt his platform of "Back to the Constitution," but it was rejected under the leadership of Senator Glass. He is still running on a plank that his own party repudiated.

I have never been away from the Constitution. Unlike my distinguished opponent, it is not necessary for me to explain why I have opposed all progressive measures in the past twenty years; I have favored and usually championed them.

I stand for a business administration, for a more prosperous and more influential State, for a continuing policy that will make our people a little more comfortable, a little happier, a little more assured that their own money is being expended to the best purpose, a step further along the road toward a tomorrow that will be better than yesterday.

VETERAN BURNS BARN, KILLS SELF WHEN JILTED BY GIRL HE LOVES.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 22.—Spurned by the girl he loved, Donald Keller, World War veteran, gassed overseas, late last night set fire to the barn of her father, Franklin Kime, a prominent farmer near here. The building burned to the ground with 11 horses and cattle, all the season's crops and a large amount of farming machinery, entailing a total loss of $11,000.

This morning Keller's lifeless body, with two bullets near the heart and another in the brain, was found several miles from the scene of the fire. A note which he left showed that the deed had been carefully planned and that, after he set fire to the barn, he wrote the missive which gave minute instructions for his funeral, which he asked the American Legion to conduct and at which he asked that his pastor preach the sermon.

Last evening, a few hours before the barn was found to be in flames, Keller had been given a hearing before a justice of the peace on a charge of threatening to burn the Kime property. He had been released on bail.

Several days ago he told Miss Rosie Kime, the object of his unrequited affections, that a tragedy might follow if she contiued to spurn him. Soon after the fire was discovered State and local police were searching for Keller and continued the hunt all night, but it was not until morning that the body was found. He had been dead several hours.

The note disposed of various personal effects and said: "The only way to get this burden off my heart was to put myself out of the road and to burn the barn. God bless you all. The words I leave to you all."

Democrats had "just five opportunities to win, and they won all five." He added that if the bill had been opened to amendment, under the general rules of the House, there is no telling what woul dhave happened to the measure.

"There were only 22 lines of the bill, out of 8,630 lines ,read for amendment," continued Mr. Garrett. "Not a member of the House, except the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee, had an opportunity even to offer an amendment, except as it was an amendment to a committee amendment. By such methods was this monstrosity passed. The day of retribution will come."

Chairman Fordney, in a statement, claimed that the bill would yield close to $500,000,000 revenue annually and that the average ad valorem rate of duty probably would be slightly under that of the Payne-Aldrich law. Mr. Fordney's statement also contained a strong declaration in favor of a high tariff as a means of protecting American industry. He contended that such protection is not incompatible with recovery in Europe.

BUTTED BY RAM, WOMAN ASKS FOR $100,000 DAMAGES.

Grantsville, Md., July 22.—Because of injuries inflicted when a ram butted Mrs. Ida Rholf, damages of $5,000 for herself and similar amount for her husband, Henry Rholf, are asked in a suit filed at Uniontown against Elizabeth Sprowl, owner of the sheep. The attack took place along a public road and it is alleged the impact hurled Mrs. Rholf violently to the ground, breaking her left leg and causing other injuries.

It is contended the owner was negligent in permitting the ram to be on a public road.

"The Electric Iron"

THE ELECTRIC IRON has done much to lessen the burdens of the housewife. Instead of standing over a hot stove the modern housewife merely presses the button and almost immediately she can iron.

When the iron reaches the heat desired, by pulling out the plug at the base, considerable current can be saved.

It is so constructed that the heat stays in the iron and does not radiate over the room.

It weighs only 6 lbs. and has a highly polished nickel finish.

The cost of operating this wonderful household asset is approximately only 5 1-2 cents per hour.

"OUTSIDE THE LAW."

Once every five years there comes a great crook drama.

In 1900 there was "Jim the Penman."

In 1905 there was "Leah Kleschna."

In 1910 there was "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

In 1915 there was "Within the Law."

Now in 1920 comes Tod Browning with "Outside the Law," an underworld epic, starring Priscilla Dean and in which appear Lon Chaney, E. A. Warren, Ralph Lewis, Wheeler Oakman, Melbourne MacDowell and Wilton Taylor. Whether this will be another classic of crookdom, of course, cannot safely be predicted. But the favored few who have already viewed this Universal-Jewel feature firm, pronounce it a smashing human drama, flavored with a romance of the underworld and the mystery of a terrific Oriental justice. Alexandria screengoers will have opportunity to form their own opinion of "Outside the Law," when Browning's play is shown at the Idle Hour theater starting tomorrow.

"HUMORESQUE" IS COMING.

Fannie Hurst's greatest story, "Humoresque," will be shown at the Richmond Theater Monday and Tuesday. It is a tale of youthful genius and mother-love, with the scene laid chiefly in New York's Ghetto and Fifth avenue. Miss Hurst as is well known, is right at home in portraying with a realistic touch the characters of New York's humbler inhabitants, and "Humoresque" is said to contain intense heart-appeal. Humor and pathos are deftly mingled in the picture.

VICTIM OF PIRATES?

This is Capt. Willis B. Wormell of Portland, Me., skipper of the five-masted schooner Carroll A. Deering. Last January the Deering drifted ashore off the coast of North Carolina, all sails set and not a soul or even a corpse aboard. The mystery has baffled seafarers for months. Now the theory is that some modern disciple of Blackbeard is practicing piracy. Capture by Bolshevists is also put forward as a possibility.

CAVE DWELLERS ARE OUSTED

Berlin Police Disperse Dr. Goldberg's Followers, Who Had Discarded Their Clothing.

Berlin.—The colony of cave dwellers of Berlin, which took the back to the land doctrine so literally that scores of men, women, boys and girls dug caves for themselves in the banks of the Spree just out of Berlin and discarded all modern wearing apparel, has been dispersed by the police. The colony's leader, Dr. Heinrich Goldberg, argued before a magistrate that the experiment was a simple solution of the housing and cost of living problems.

The cave dwellers began by discarding hats and shoes, but soon decided to do away with clothing altogether, and in this fashion disported themselves in the waters of the Spree or sat about their cave doors munching black bread and sausages, apparently oblivious to the crowds of sightseers which began to frequent the vicinity.

Dr. Goldberg from his abode in the "Cave of Zarathustra" issued circulars discussing the Nietzschean philosophy, anarchy, communism, the faults of the present civilization, and asking the rent weary and the work worn to "watch this colony grow."

Somebody spoiled the experiment by complaining that the brotherhood was having a deleterious effect upon public morals and calling attention to the doctor's career, which was said to have included efforts to reform England, Russia and Poland. The colony has disappeared, but its leader has become a familiar figure upon the streets of Berlin, wearing long hair and going barefoot.

WARN ARTISTS OFF GRASS

Local Color Rags Thrown in Pastures Poison the Cows, Lyme's Embattled Farmers Say.

New London, Conn.—Automobile parties passing through Old Lyme and Hamburg have had their curiosity aroused by signs set up at various points along the road by owners of farms prohibiting trespass on their property "by artists." No objection to trespassing by others is made.

During the summer noted landscape artists from various parts of the United States make Lyme their headquarters, and at the end of the season their work is placed on exhibition and sold in the local art building.

This discrimination against the artists is said to be due to the farmers' contention that they have had numerous cows poisoned by getting hold of paint-encrusted rags. They assert the rags are thrown away in the fields by artists who use the rags to clean their brushes and palettes after they have finished work for the day.

MONTANA GIRL PARK RANGER

Student in State College Is the First Woman to Get This Forest Job.

Bozeman, Mont.—Miss Marguerite Lindsley, a junior student in Montana State college here, is the first woman ever to be named as ranger in Yellowstone National park. Word of her appointment has been received here.

Miss Lindsley is anticipating no difficulty in pointing out to tourists the beauties and the wonders of the government playground, however, for the geysers and the hot springs are as familiar to her as the drinking fountains and the fire plugs are to many a city dweller. She is on terms of acquaintance with most of the birds and beasts and knows every hill and valley in the big reserve.

The new ranger's father, C. A. Lindsley, is assistant superintendent of the park and has been connected with the government service here for 26 years. Miss Lindsley has spent every summer of her life in the park.

BRONX CHILDREN HALT ICE CREAM PROFITEERS.

New York, July 22.—The campaign started recently by Bronx youngsters and their mothers to bring down the price of soda and ice cream bore fruit today, when forty confectioners, several of whom own chains of stores, agreed to make reductions.

The new price will be eleven cents for a dish of ice cream and fifteen cents—war tax inclusive—for ice cream sodas. The cuts were decided upon at a conference called by Mrs. Louis Reed Welzmiller, deputy commission of public markets. Many of the dealers, the deputy was informed, have been getting 17 to 22 cents for ice cream sodas. Dealers declared war time prices for the confections would prevail when served at tables, but Mrs. Welzmiller urged at tables, but Mrs. Welzmiller urged the public to keep up the fight by sitting or standing at the counters.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodsons Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless pleasant and safe to give to children: they like it.
